Reintroducing and introducing Ubuntu, a "We-philosophy". Meeting the need to rethink how we address sustainability issues starting from the base, giving the simple tools and opening up the agenda for broad citizen engagement. We believe that women do not need to accept what is - but create what could be. We see every challenge as an opportunity and believe in thinking different and challenging the norm. We do this by...

- Sharing our stories as a way to inspire, uplift and empower ourselves and others.
- Keeping a lookout for things that capture our curiosity and present a world size challenge.
- Developing innovative business systems that are unique and specific for the challenge.
- Immersing our community into the true essence of the Ubuntu philosophy
- Bringing the missing resources that are required to realize the vast potential of women worldwide.
- Engaging and empowering the women to think about their own creative and sustainable solutions.
- Connect with other organizations and big thinkers with our culture to solve problems.
