The theme of the summit is Professional / Professional Development and Business and Operations Development, solving some very real problems. Time management, labour relations, HR best practices, business building, etc. The summit features panel discussions, interviews and concurrent sessions for the attendees to choose from. A successful presentation helps move leaders from, "I didn't know I didn't know this." to... "Now I know I don't know this... and now I know where to find a resource (you, the presenter). Our non-sales sessions focus on not only providing the high-value learning, but to spotlight the presenter as the expert.
